- Starch segment was able to boost its EBIT substantially thanks to higher bioethanol revenue
- Significant Group EBIT increase for full year 2019 | 20 is reaffirmed

AGRANA

SUSTAINABLE MANAGEMENT IS KEY

ENVIRONMENTAL DIMENSIONS

Climate warming and a deficit of precipitation is already having an impact on European agriculture and the processing industry, as the drought year 2018 has clearly shown

We are anticipating this:

- Intensifying the research activities in the agricultural sector, in view also of the legal limitation of crop protection products
- Responsible use of agricultural resources is highly important to AGRANA – raw materials are too valuable not to be utilised completely (new refining of pulp from potato processing, construction of a betaine crystallisation plant for the complete utilisation of sugar beet molasses)
- AGRANA products themselves make a substantial contribution to protecting the climate and the environment:
 - Bioethanol as an environmentally friendly component of blended petrol, produced in our biorefinery in Pischelsdorf, Austria, reduces emissions such as CO₂ and small dust particles
 - Innovative AGENACOMP® bioplastic helps reduce plastic waste; starch-based organic plastic compound is 100% home-compostable without leaving microplastic residues and can be used for a wide range of applications
 - As part of AGRANA's specialties strategy, organics are an important cornerstone of the product range that makes the Group the largest European B2B organic starch and sugar producer

27 FRUIT PREPARATION PLANTS &
15 FRUIT JUICE CONCENTRATE PLANTS

■ Countries with production sites
● Potential growth regions

FRUIT SEGMENT

REVENUE

€m

REVENUE slightly down at € 595.6 million

- Fruit preparations: revenue was flat, with stable volumes and prices
- Fruit juice concentrates: revenue was down due to lower market price levels, sales volumes increased

EBIT lower than in prior year

- Reasons for deterioration mainly in the fruit preparations business (primary drivers):
 - One-time impacts related to raw materials in Mexico (strawberry and mango)
 - Low sales prices for apples in Ukraine
 - Exceptional staff cost effects
 - General sales development below expectations
 - General cost increases could not be fully offset by higher sales volumes
- EBIT in the fruit juice concentrate business remained at a high level thanks to stable operating performance, although it was down on the previous year -> idle costs are already being booked in anticipation of a lower apple harvest in 2019

FRUIT SEGMENT

Fruit preparations

- FP relevant market for dairy products is forecast to grow by +3.2% in 2020 (baseline 2019)
 - Driven by drinking yoghurt category (+6.5%)
 - Spoonable fruit yoghurt grows in the regions relevant to AGRANA Fruit by +0.2%
- Planned growth in areas such as e.g. South America, Middle East, Europe and North America is currently affected negatively by macro-economic influences
- Continued focus on alternative market segments such as ice-cream and food services

Fruit juice concentrates

- Demand for apple juice concentrate moderate in anticipation of the new harvest
- Spring production was successfully marketed
- Berry concentrates from harvest 2018 are almost completely contracted

FINANCIAL RESULTS FOR H1 2019|20

STARCH SEGMENT

REVENUE

€m

REVENUE at € 407.8 m above prior year

- Key reason substantial increase in ethanol revenue
- Saccharification products with declining prices, revenue was slightly raised due to higher volumes
- Native and modified starches experienced revenue growth, partly thanks to volume increases
- Baby food revenue increased, too

€m

EBIT significantly up to € 34.3 million

- EBIT growth primarily due to significant price increases of ethanol and higher sales volumes in all other segments
- Higher raw material costs out of the 2018 crop was the main mitigating factor
- Equity-accounted HUNGRANA contribution declined from € 9.1 million to € 7.2 million -> strongly affected by price declines for saccharification products

STARCH SEGMENT

- Market environment for the Starch segment in the first half of the financial year 2019|20 was characterised by solid sales development
- Market situation for liquid saccharification products, particularly isoglucose, remains determined by volume pressure; positive development of organic maltodextrins
- Stable demand for native and modified starches; tight supply in cereal starches for the European paper and corrugated board industry has eased
- High ethanol quotations -> bioethanol business made a very positive contribution to overall result; prices were supported by seasonally higher demand and supply shortages, especially in Northern and Western Europe
- Feedstuff area: steadily growing demand for GMO-free feedstuffs is the key reason for stable prices

ISOGLUCOSE MARKET IN THE EU

As of 1st of October 2017 also the quotas for isoglucose were abolished, which means new growth potential for AGRANA.

Before, AGRANA held 125,000 tonnes (->> HUNGRANA: 250,000 tonnes).

Former isoglucose quota of the EU-28 $\sim < 5\%$ of sugar consumption

Higher market share of isoglucose in the mid and longer term expected.

BENEFIT FROM THE STRONG MARKET POSITION IN CEE AND SEE

AGRANA SUGAR AFTER THE END OF QUOTAS

- CEE area will continue to be a “sugar deficit region” (AGRANA is located in these main deficit areas)
 - Complexity in logistics and costs from Western Europe are somehow a protection of intra-EU imports
 - Defend and extend existing market share in CEE
- AGRANA has established long-term relationships with key sugar producers in the LDCs and ACPs (duty-free-imports)
- Uncertain market development requires continuous flexibility
- High volatility expected

FINANCIAL RESULTS FOR H1 2019|20

SUGAR SEGMENT

REVENUE

€m

REVENUE down to € 246.6 million

- Lower sugar sales volumes, mainly in retail
- Sugar sales prices comparable with prior year level

EBIT

€m

EBIT decreased significantly

- Sharp decrease caused by lower sugar sales volumes and squeezed margins

SUGAR SEGMENT

■ World sugar market

- World market price stagnated at a low level since the beginning of the FY
- Even, new 10-year low for white sugar (July 2019 at US$ 294.0 per tonne)
- Against the expectation of small deficit in the SMY 2018|19, considerable inventories, notably in India, led to low prices
- Deficit expected for SMY 2019 | 20 is also regarded as only moderately supportive for sugar price development

■ EU sugar market

- In the SMY 2018 | 19, sugar production in the EU was around 17.6 million tonnes (yoy decline of around 17%); due to the repeatedly very dry weather conditions in the summer, the EC also expects only 18.3 million tonnes of sugar for the SMY 2019 | 20 according to the August forecast
- EU price reporting system:
 - Since the abolition of the sugar quotas (end of September 2017) prices declined significantly and continually
 - In July 2019 average price increase again to approx. € 320 per tonne
 - Further increase is expected for the next several months; also because the European beet harvest in 2019 is expected only at the level of the drought year 2018
- Potentially limited availability of sugar in deficit regions

AGRANA GROUP

OUTLOOK FOR 2019|20

AGRANA Group

EBIT 2019 | 20

Revenue 2019 | 20

- Despite the challenges in the Sugar and Fruit segment, the Group's operating profit (EBIT) is expected to increase significantly (between +10% and +50%) in the 2019|20 FY
- Revenue is projected to show moderate growth
- Total investment across the three business segments in 2019|20 FY, at approximately € 140 million, is once more to significantly exceed the budgeted depreciation of about € 110 million

AGRANA SEGMENTS

OUTLOOK FOR 2019|20

FRUIT

Revenue →
EBIT ↓↓

- Fruit segment: AGRANA expects the 2019|20 FY to bring stable revenue but a significant EBIT decrease
 - Fruit preparations: due to stagnating sales volumes in all business areas, the FP business expects a corresponding sales trend; EBIT is expected to show a significant decline compared with the prior year due to the subdued earnings trend in the first half of 2019|20
 - Fruit juice concentrates: revenue is projected this FY to be steady; EBIT will be significantly lower than in the excellent prior year due to lower capacity utilisation because of lower raw material availability

STARCH

Revenue ↑
EBIT ↑↑

- Starch segment: moderate increase in revenue is forecasted for 2019|20; markets for starches are expected to be stable, with starch-based saccharification products remaining affected by European sugar prices
- EBIT of the Starch segment is expected to increase significantly from the prior-year level also because of year on year higher ethanol prices

SUGAR

Revenue ↗
EBIT ↑↑

- Sugar segment: AGRANA is projecting still a low revenue in expectation of a continued challenging sugar market environment
- Ongoing cost reduction programmes will be able to soften the margin reduction to some extent; EBIT is thus expected to remain negative in the 2019|20 FY; nonetheless, a significant improvement in earnings is anticipated due to higher sugar sales prices and lower idle costs in the SMY 2019|20
