Financial outlook 2025 | 26

EBIT 2025 | 26 →

Revenue 2025 | 26 🔰

- AGRANA expects operating profit (EBIT) to be steady
- Group revenue is projected to show a slight reduction
- Total investment across the three business segments in the new financial year, at approximately € 120 million, is expected to be moderately higher than the 2024|25 value and slightly above budgeted depreciation of about € 115 million

Forecast uncertainty and assumptions

Regarding the outlook for the 2025|26 financial year, it should be noted that further impacts from the ongoing war in Ukraine are likely, along with a continuing overall intensification of the already high volatility in the markets both on the product and procurement side. In addition, the economic and financial impacts, and duration, of the turmoil in the global tariff landscape are difficult to forecast. This applies in particular with regard to the further development of duty-free Ukrainian agricultural imports (e.g. sugar and wheat) into the EU. In addition, the economic and financial impacts, and duration, of the turmoil in the global tariff landscape are difficult to forecast.

On the one hand, the earnings situation in the Sugar segment is projected to remain very poor; on the other hand, exceptional staff costs in connection with the plant closures in March 2025 will also weigh on this segment.
